

Welcome to week 2!!

I hope you all had a good weekend. At least the sun was shining!!

We will continue with the same routines as last week, with staff making contact to support families. Make sure you are honest about how you are managing when they call. It is okay to be worried in these uncertain times and chatting this through with somebody you know can help a lot. We are worried too and we are all here to help each other through this!!

Staff are constantly providing ideas for activities and work on the Facebook page – have a look for some inspiration. It is also another way to stay connected with others.

Keep safe and well
Claire Crowley
